"The right hire fits the budget and the brief — and the team's culture and taste. Finding that piece is my favourite part of the job."

Profile

Recruiter with in-house and agency experience across IT, game, creative and healthcare hiring. I love meeting all kinds of people and learning how each industry works. In agency, I closed a Senior Game Designer and creative roles and took Data, Flutter and Fullstack candidates to offer stage. In-house at Hoan My, I handle high-volume hiring with department heads from intake to onboarding. I'm growing toward a Senior Talent Acquisition role.

Why I recruit

Every conversation opens a new industry and a new personality. I like being useful in the middle: telling each candidate's story well, and helping each team find someone who fits not only the budget and the role, but its culture and taste too.

Off the clock

I enjoy farm and life sims, rhythm and dance games, management and strategy games, shooters and MMORPGs. Games I've played include Avatar (farm), Ninja School (TeaMobi), Gunny, Audition, PUBG, Valorant and Where Winds Meet.

What my GM said at my interview

"This girl talks a lot — I don't know yet if she can deliver, but she is seriously persuasive."

I persuaded the GM to hire me. Six months later: 65+ requisitions handled and 42+ positions filled.
